SO IT BEGINS

BOOM!! Just like that – we are here @ NED University

IT'S YOU WHO WE ARE LOOKING FOR!

“It's not the strongest
of species that survives, nor the most intelligent that survives, but the one most adaptable to change.”

– CHARLES DARWIN

We live in a world of constant change.

In the near future, early markets will be disrupted. Given today's digital age, we will require business leaders to be all rounded and engaged not only within their own industry domains but be cognoscente to technological advancements. Firms which value analysis, data gathering, marketing research, technological and product advancement will continue to thrive by exploiting what they have and exploring new growth opportunities.

In future, our Strategic plans will be inclusive of Data Science, Technical Platforms, Ecosystems, New Product Development, along with dynamic and scenario-based probabilistic financial models.

Come join Muneer M Merchant, NED University Alumni Batch 95-96, as he launches:

Muneer's talk will highlight industrial revolution 4.0 with a perspective of BIG DATA, IOT, AI, Machine Learning and Predictive Analytics as it relates to Engineering Application in today's world. What this revolution means to us in the digital economy and how impactful this can be for emerging economies.
